Weekly Inspirational Corner

(Sponsored by an Irma Times reader)

For other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ.

Now if any man build upon this foundation gold, silver, precious stones, etc., his building will be made manifest.

Every man's work shall be made manifest: for the day shall declare it, because it shall be revealed by fire; and the fire shall try every man's work of what sort it is.

If any man's work abide which he hath built thereupon, he shall receive a reward.

If any man's work shall be burned, he shall suffer loss: but he himself shall be saved; yet so as by fire.

Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you?

If any man defile the temple of God, he shall God destroy; for the temple of God is holy, which temple ye are. —I Cor. 3: 11-17.

Rae - Pascha Pledge Vows

Miss Grace Marie Pascha became the bride of Mr. John Allan Rae, in a beautiful fall wedding on November 1st, in Norwood United Church in Edmonton.

Rev. Donald C. Wilson performed the double-ring ceremony for the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Pascha of Viking and the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Rae of Irma.

Bouquets of pink and white carnations flanked the altar, which was lighted by tall ivory tapers. Guest pews were marked with pink and white satin bows.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a five-length gown of white nylon net with matching bolero and full lily-point sleeves, matching bodice was embroidered with sequins and seed pearls. A coronet of seed pearls held in place her fingertip veil. She carried a white Bible surmounted by a white orchid and rose buds.

As her sister's matron of honor, Mrs. William E. Veitch of Wainwright wore a floor-length gown of coral lace and net with matching bolero and headpiece. In her hair she wore a circlet of coral lace. Her bouquet was fashioned of white carnations.

Bridesmatron, Mrs. Murray Rae of Irma, wore a blue floor-length nylon lace gown, with matching bolero and headpiece. She carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Little Beverly Ann Veitch, niece of the bride, was flower girl, wearing a pale blue nylon dress with matching head piece and white accessories. Her bouquet was of white carnations.

Brian David Veitch, nephew of the bride, acted as ring-bearer.

Attending the groom were Mr. Murray Rae, brother of the groom and Mr. William Veitch, brother-in-law of the bride.

A trio of Misses Shirley Lee, Sheila Johnson and Edith Sorenson sang The Wedding Prayer during the ceremony and O Perfect Love, while the register was being signed.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Norwood United Church basement.

Mrs. Pascha, mother of the bride, receiving guests, chose a beige suit with pink accessories and corsage of red roses.

Mrs. Rae, mother of the groom, also receiving, chose a navy frock with aqua accessories and corsage of red roses.

The bride's table was centred with a beautifully decorated 3-tiered wedding cake embedded in tulips.

A bridal toast was proposed by Mr. William Veitch, to which the groom ably responded.

Miss Phyllis Davison, in a few well chosen words, expressed good wishes on behalf of the nurses and Grace's co-workers of the Royal Alexandra Hospital.

Miss Iris Woychuk was in charge of the guest book.

For a going-away outfit the bride donned a two-piece blue plaid dress, a black Hudson seal top coat and a black and white accessories. A white orchid completed her ensemble.

Mr. and Mrs. Rae will make their home in Edmonton.

Out-of-town guests included: Mr. and Mrs. Horace Cottrell, Mrs. Micky Jackson, Mrs. C. A. Wright and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bacon of Fabian; Mrs. Gary Medcalf and Mr. Albert Bacon of Wainwright; Mrs. William Bacon, Mrs. John Rae, Kenneth and Bob Rae of Irma; Mrs. Hager and Mr. Bill Blades of Devon.

If any man's work abide which he hath built thereupon, he shall receive a reward.

If any man's work shall be burned, he shall suffer loss: but he himself shall be saved; yet so as by fire.

Many Attend H.S.A. Regional Conference Held at Viking

The Viking Home and School Association were hosts to members of the Alberta Federation of HSA, and to delegates and visitors from many outside points at a conference held here on Nov. 29, 1958. It was indeed a pleasure to see so many visitors, despite the inclement weather.

There were people here from such points as Provost, Cadogan, Edgerton, Mannville and Vegreville.

The Conference opened at 9:45 a.m., with Regional Director, Mr. L. Allan in the chair. The singing of O Canada, was followed by a prayer by Rev. C. Swallow. Mayor S. Hafso brought greetings from the town of Viking, and emphasized the importance of the Home and School Association in our changing civilization.

Mr. Allan, from Chauvin, brought greetings from the Alberta Federation of HSA and introduced the Federation President, Mr. R. Jacock, from Lethbridge. Mr. Jacock, paying his official visit as President, gave a most interesting and inspiring talk, in which he pointed out the position the HSA should take in stimulating public interest in education, and in the various problems arising from it, such as early dropping out of students, teaching standards and teachers' standards; gifted children, home and community influences, etc.

People need to stop and think, he said. We must educate our children for the coming age. Man has progressed from the stone age, through the steel age and the electrical age into the atomic age. The question is, in how far have we mastered the universe? have we mastered ourselves? We now possess the ability to commit social suicide, and the race today is for the minds of men. Russia understands this, and has one of the best educational systems in the world. We must wake up and get busy—soon industry will be asking that new employees have first year university education—85% of those unemployed last year had Grade VII or less.

We cannot ignore the need for more schooling—automation will demand it. The computer, doing fabulous feats beyond human ability, must be programmed by trained minds who grasp the whole process. We may need, instead of many stringographers, a lot of secretaries who are trained to grasp the complete unit.

All this is the business of the HSA—we are concerned with the influences of home, school, and also the ever more pressing influence of the outside community on the development of the child. Our country is turning out the lowest percentage of university graduates in the world, and we cannot supply our own trained personnel. The point here that we must note is that, while 45% of our students are capable of getting Senior Matriculation, only 8% get it. And only 2% graduate from the university. The U.S.A. graduates 35%, and Russia graduates 19%. Only 25% of our teachers hold degrees. Children should be kept in school as far as they can.

We must realize that all children are not capable of obtaining equally advanced education, but those who can should do so with no question—of leaving school for the doubtful price of a job with a high wage. Too many employers are robbing the schools of students who could otherwise go on and graduate.

Mr. Pike's advice to us as parents was to take an interest in the schools, become an informed public, discuss problems directly with the staff, and try to make constructive suggestions.

Mrs. Smiley thanked the members of the Executive and the Viking Home and School Association for making this conference possible and very instructive and helpful to the delegates.

Coffee was served by the Viking HSA, and the meeting came to a close at 4:30 p.m.

We must promote the attainment of intellectual excellence, said the president. There is great need for knowledge of general things, and "know-why" is better than "know-how." Further we find that the so-prevalent over-protective attitude of parents toward the young results in unnecessary frustration when they come unprepared into a world of competition where survival depends on achievement—the result of effort. Today's in-

WITH THE District Agriculturist

By J. S. Duncan

Coyote Control

Reports from farmers indicate that coyotes are both plentiful and hungry this winter. There is very little need for a farmer to suffer losses from coyotes if he is willing to help himself. Poisons such as cyanide guns and strichine pellets are available from your pest Control Officer or Field Supervisor.

The influence of the surrounding community is tremendous. Therefore the family now must provide positiveness within itself, and also try to influence the community so that it in turn may exert a healthy influence on the children.

Following the President's address, Mr. E. Overn, of Camrose, gave a short talk on nominations, and Mr. L. Allan discussed the new Executive set-up which is enabling the Federation to function more easily. He stressed the close liaison between the A.T.A. and the HSA, and also the close co-operation received from the Department of Education. Without the support of these organizations the Federation could hardly function.

In the afternoon Mr. Overn led a discussion of local problems. The question of parent-teacher interviews was dealt with—the conclusion reached that these are essential, and should be held by appointment, either after school or during a day set aside for the purpose.

Mr. A. W. Yeack of Camrose gave a most helpful address on program planning. The important things in arranging the program are punctuality, enthusiasm, group participation and evaluation of the program. This evaluation should be done very soon after the meeting, and future meetings are planned using this evaluation as a guide. This enthusiastic speaker gave many good suggestions for lively panel discussions, surprise numbers, skits, etc. He urged that the publicity be emphasized.

The final speaker of the day was our County Superintendent of Schools, Mr. H. A. Pike, of Holden, who dealt with the subject "Public Demands Education." He showed while the demands made by the public for changes are numerous, they are never ignored, but carefully considered and often acted upon, although the changes may take some time to effect. An example of this was the change we have seen from pure enterprise as a subject to enterprise teaching—which is merely teaching by the group method. For a time there was some confusion in this regard. In the last analysis schools are experimental houses where we are constantly trying to improve our methods so that we may fit the students for the next stage of their education. There should always be plans for a next stage, said Mr. Pike—our schools are not finishing schools, and the students are not really very mature at the Grade twelve level. When a student leaves school we expect that he will be able to read, write, figure, think scientifically and analytically and that he will have a reasonable rate of progress.

Mr. Pike's advice to us as parents was to take an interest in the schools, become an informed public, discuss problems directly with the staff, and try to make constructive suggestions.

Mrs. Smiley thanked the members of the Executive and the Viking Home and School Association for making this conference possible and very instructive and helpful to the delegates.

Safe Driving Week December 1st to 7th

OTTAWA—Safe-Driving Week, a national campaign to impress the motorist and pedestrian with his responsibility, as an individual, in preventing traffic accidents will be sponsored nationally by the Canadian Highway Safety Conference this year from December first to seventh, inclusive.

Safe-Driving Week has been given the support of the Governor General and the Prime Minister. Participating will be the Premiers of all the provinces, safety organizations, police forces, the judiciary, public service groups, women's organizations and many others.

George B. Kenny, chairman of the Canadian Highway Safety Conference has called on every motorist and pedestrian to cooperate. "Make an honest effort," he asked them, "to get through Safe-Driving Week without a single traffic accident. If you can do it for a week, you can do it for a year. We appeal to every driver and every walker to make Safe-Driving Week 1958, an outstanding success."

Mr. Kenny referred to a recent forecast of 3,400 traffic deaths in Canada in 1958 and added, "More than 90 per cent of those deaths could be prevented if the individual driver and walker realized his responsibility, as an individual, in driving and walking safely."

Passes School Bus Fined $35 and Costs (Vermilion Standard)

A farmer of the Allandale district appeared in court Monday charged with failing to stop behind an unloading school bus. He was fined $35 and costs by Magistrate Basler with the option of thirty days in jail. The accused pleaded guilty and paid the fine.

It appears that the school bus had stopped to allow a child to leave, the driver set his red light flashing, a signal to all traffic to stop. The accused approached driving a truck and failed to stop, narrowly missing the child.

Magistrate Basler took a very severe view of the offence and stated that the lives of our children must be protected. He cautioned that such action might result in the suspension of the driver's license.
